This document last updated 02/05/18

It is the goal of the ADS picture project to obtain a quality photo of every dahlia defined in the Online Classification and Handbook of Dahlias.

Please Note: After visiting any link in this document, use your browser's back arrow to return to this document.

The emphasis will be on dahlias that currently have no photo online.

For a list of dahlias that DO NOT have photos Click here

Next, emphasis will be on the list of dahlias below.

These dahlias have photos but they could be improved upon.

For a list of dahlias that DO have photos Click here

Finally, the ADS encourages submission of photos for any dahlia defined online, even if the current photo is good, very good, even great. If you feel you have a "better" photo, by all means, please submit it!

The ideal photograph will have a single bloom predominant and the entire bloom in the picture (not partially cut off). ----->

Please photograph with a landscape orientation (horizontal dimension is significantly greater than vertical dimension). ----->

Please turn off date imprint on your camera.

Do not overtype comments of any kind on the picture; no copyright statements, no bloom name, no classification info or photographer name, none of that.

Just the picture of the dahlia(s).

Please:

- 1) send your pictures, as photographed. The ADS will perform all necessary cropping and sizing functions.
- 2) name your pictures with the dahlia name spelled exactly as it appears on the online Classification and Handbook of Dahlias.
- 3) e-Mail your pictures (not more than approximately 10 megabytes in total, per e-Mail).

Send your pictures to---

In the list that follows, click on dahlia name to view existing photo

The next page contains samples of the type of photos we are looking for

Examples of what we are looking for

Subject bloom throughout the photo with nice single bloom dead-center.

EMBRACE.

MAKS LEMON ZEST

<-Example of non-garden photo with single bloom predominant

Examples of photos with issues

VALLEY DAWN

<-Example of truncation
Why do so many of the photos of dahlias on this list have the bloom(s) in the photo truncated? Was this part of the sizing/uploading process or were the photos actually taken that way?

JESSICA'S BABY

<-Example of size issue that prevents the existing photo from being set to standard
At first glance, the size appears to be OK as displayed on the screen, however, the actual physical size of this photo is 480 inches wide by 360 inches high (yes "inches") set at 1 dpi resolution (yes 1). A mix-up between "inches" and "pixels" when sizing???

The remaining pages contain a list of dahlias that really could use a better picture.
Throughout the document, the word picture is sometimes abbreviated as pic

By far, the biggest issue with the photos of dahlias on the following list is the bloom(s) in the photo are truncated

Where the word "orientation" appears in the following list, it means the horizontal dimension of the existing photo is not significantly greater than the vertical dimension, thus, making the existing photo difficult, if not impossible to crop or size to chosen standard. Where the word "correct" appears, it means "does this picture match the classification?"

PLEASE SUBMIT A BETTER PHOTO! OF THE FOLLOWING:

Whether you agree with the comments or not, a better photo is requested
